PANTZER TO OPEN MCH CONFERENCE
THIS FRIDAY IN BILLINGS

MISSOULA--

University of Montana President Robert T. Pantzer, who is chairman of the Montana Committee for the Humanities (MCH), will present opening remarks Friday (Nov. 30) at the second annual MCH state conference in Billings. The conference will be Friday and Saturday.

Pantzer will speak at 1 p.m. Friday at the Ramada Inn, the conference headquarters.

Bruce R. Sievers, MCH director, who has offices at the University, said the conference, which will launch the second year of the MCH program in the humanities, "will provide both information about public participation in the grants program and a forum for discussion of the conference theme, 'Politics: The Dilemma of Power and Morality.'"

Several nationally prominent speakers will participate in the conference. All conference discussions are open to the public.

Conference keynote speakers are:

Rollo May, a New York psychiatrist, banquet speaker, 6:30 p.m. Friday; Michael Walzer, author and professor of government at Harvard University, 9 a.m. Saturday, and Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, 2 p.m. Saturday. The address by Hughes will conclude the conference.

May, Walzer and Hughes also will participate in a panel discussion entitled "Morality and Politics" from 10-11 a.m. Saturday.

Dr. Len Oliver, Washington, D.C., assistant director for state-based programs, National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH), will discuss the MCH program and the NEH involvement in the program at 1:15 p.m. Friday.

At 1:30 p.m. Friday, Sievers will review the first year of the MCH program, which was completed Oct. 1 under a $155,000 grant from the NEH.
